

Restoring American Wellness Summit: How Can Policy Help Make America Healthy Again? (Please Forward)

If you're interested in or involved in Public Policy, this is worth your time.

Do you believe that COVID was just about health? One of the most revealing-compelling programs I have seen in 2024.

- This is about much more than health – it involves Public Policy!
- How are we being treated by and lied to by our institutions?
- How has Ideology coopted and trumped Science in America?
- How does Public Policy promote Public Practice – a question for consideration.
- Why do we need Informed Consent in medicine - and beyond?

A deep dive into the corruption and malevolence projected upon America by our government, medical groups, big pharma, big Ag, the media, and much of our industry.

Summary: The growing coalition of Americans concerned about our country's health presents a unique opportunity to confront the misalignment between our medical, health, agricultural systems, and the American people. A critical examination of corporate influence, government regulatory agencies, and the pharmaceutical industry reveals systemic issues contributing to our country's health crisis.

This is an in-depth discussion of these critical issues as experts explore the origin of these challenges, the failed role of our public health systems, and the need for a comprehensive bipartisan effort to restore the good life and help Americans live the healthy life again.
